"Uno," of Crossland, on the Congressional Race.

Crossland, Ky., June 30, 1912. Ed. Ledger: There is over an average crop of tobacco planted in this section and it looks well, and I am thinking that farmers will need the association in order to keep the price up where it should be. There is already a whisper gone abroad that there is a big crop, and hence tobacco will be cheap, when I am satisfied there will not be over 90 per cent of a crop raised in the black patch.

Say, I see by your paper that you are supporting John K. Hendrick for Congress and we are all so glad of it, because we all know him to be so honest and so capable to fill the place he is running for. He made a speech at Hazel Saturday and I thought while he was speaking how proud we ought to be that we had a man so capable of dropping into Ollie's place. But if we were to listen to that little band of politicians there at Murray and vote against Hendrick, as they had done in voting against Ollie at our state convention, what a foolish thing we would do. Ollie was not in their estimation great enough to preside at a state convention, but when he came to the National Convention among statesmen, they thought him great enough and grand enough to preside over its deliberations. Hendricks warned the people to keep an eye on Judge Wells, J. A. Edwards, Joe Lancaster and K. Robertson, who lined this county up in the State Convention against Ollie James.

He showed the people how that only a short time ago Judge Wells was bitterly assailing Denny P. Smith for a failure to discharge his duty in the office of Commonwealths Attorney and that now everything was smoothed between them, and that Wells was trucking right along booming Denny to beat the band. What does this mean? Now somebody please rise and tell us what it means, for he knows and everybody knows that he knows Denny Smith is not as well qualified to go to Congress as John K. Hendrick is. As for little K. Robertson, he is to be pitied rather than blamed, he thinks that he can vote every man, woman and child in Calloway county against Hendrick. The only thing I am sorry about is that John ever gave him the post-office there at Murray. I venture to say that if Mr. Hendrick is elected that K. will not get the post-office again, for Hendrick thoroughly understands him now and of course if Ollie don't know how he treated him at the convention he will know it by and by. Look after everything the best you can and "watch old Swann precinct grow" for John K. Hendrick. Yours truly, Uno.

The Paris Conference.

It will be called to order at Atwood, Tenn., July 9th, at 2 o'clock p. m. sharp. Rev. B. C. Douglas, of Dresden, will preach the opening sermon.

Others will follow to keep it open.

The meeting will be more alive than dead. Mr. John R. Pepper, of Memphis, Rev. W. B. Nance, of China, right out of the great revolution; S. L. Jewel, H. B. Johnson, R. K. Hood, W. C. Sellers and others from outside the district will labor for our own good men.

A clearing house of ideas and happy acquaintance; an institute of fresh purpose and method and good will; an old-time conference on home-life and religion, revivals and education, Sunday schools and preaching and missions; in fine, upon the whole blessed task of leaving the lump of the world's life with heaven's Gospel.

How can you miss it.

C. A. Waterfield, Presiding Elder.

GOV. WILSON,

New Jersey, For President.

GOV. MARSHALL

Indiana, Vice-President.

BALTIMORE, July 2.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, was made the presidential nominee of the Democratic national convention after six days of deliberation, on the 46th ballot, when he received 990 votes to 84 for Champ Clark, Democratic speaker of the house of representatives. The Missouri delegates, who had remained faithful to Clark to the end then moved that the nomination be made unanimous.

Woodrow Wilson

There was cheers of approval, and the long fight was over.

When the adjournment came late last night the convention seemed hopelessly deadlocked, but the decision was reached today on the fourth ballot taken.

As the Wilson-folks had anticipated when Illinois switched it was the beginning of the end. The meteoric gains for Wilson by the withdrawal of Underwood, and Clark through the releasing of delegates by the representatives of these two men, came fast.

The delegates, wearied by the long session of the past week, realized at once that the climax had come and from the end to the adjournment there was a great and enthusiastic confusion.

The only display of temper marking the day came from some of the Missouri delegates when they demanded of Senator Bandhead (Continued on Page Eight)

EDITORIAL.

A NOTABLE FIGHT AND A NOTABLE VICTORY.

Woodrow Wilson is the standard bearer of the national Democracy.

His nomination is a conspicuous and decisive victory for a great man, a great party and a great people.

This notable fight, which has culminated in a notable victory, was stubbornly made on the one side by the powerful vested interests, and on the other side by those who are struggling for the relief of the masses.

Woodrow Wilson is the choice of the Democratic party and the American people, and his candidacy, based as it is on the rights and liberties of the people, will fire the hearts and souls of men to an enthusiasm that will carry him and his party triumphantly into power.

No braver or better men ever went to battle than those who led this conflict, and no greater victory for a righteous cause was ever achieved. The struggle was one against the combined forces of self and plunder, and to say the rights of the people were successfully defended against the assaults of such powerful interests is to say that those who waged and won this battle fully demonstrated their courage, their patriotism and their statesmanship.

When the Baltimore convention was about to be Ryanized, and, in turn, the Democratic party enslaved to the Wall Street interests, William J. Bryan rose to the zenith of his marvelous power and went forth as a veritable David to meet and vanquish that terrorizing and most-dreaded Philistine giant, the most corrupt political power of this nation. And it is to his everlasting credit, and to the credit of the Democratic party of the nation, that he won the fight, in combatting a corrupt interest in defense of the rights of the people.

Never in all his career was Bryan ever more determined to triumph for the cause of the people and an untrained Democracy. And though assailed from every point by the agencies of evil, he never faltered in his fight nor wavered in his purpose. He had cause to know the power of his foe. He had reason to fear such an adversary, for he had grappled with that old and relentless antagonist before. But with that courage that never fails, and that hope that never dies, he fought his way to victory, and it must now be said that the great Nebraskan, who is now greater and more powerful than at any time during the years of his wonderful career, was the most potent factor in throttling a corrupt interest, and making it possible for Woodrow Wilson, the choice of the people, to lead an unbought and unbossed Democracy in a conflict for popular government against a government of bosses and rings.

Who knew Wilson knows the needs of the people. He is strong and fearless. He can neither be bought or bullied. He has all the elements of a great and good man, and when the time comes for the people to choose the successor to William Howard Taft, whose nomination was secured for him by brutal force in the glare of the noonday sun, they will say, and say with great emphasis, that this Woodrow Wilson, who is the man for them.

Woodrow Wilson's triumph is the triumph of good government. It is the triumph of popular rights. It is the triumph of the people. Nashville, Tennessee, American.

John Mc. Extends His Congratulations to the Ledger.

Paris, Tenn., June 30.

Dear Jennings: I rejoiced to see you take a stand for the right by coming out for John K. Hendrick in the congressional race. Mr. Hendrick is almost as well known in Tennessee as he is in Kentucky, and I have men every day to tell me it would be a shame to defeat a man of Hendrick's ability and experience when men of his type are so badly needed in Congress at this time. The ingratitude of certain fellows around Murray in opposing Hendrick for the reason that they hope to get office, or for other selfish reasons, ought to awaken the people in Calloway. It seems to me that they, the people, of Calloway have been traded and trafficked around about long enough. The way they were thrown down at the Louisville convention by this crowd was a shame and a scandal—and, by the way, Ollie expects to set up with a few butties in Murray for the double-cross they gave him, and the people who were for him without scarcely a dissenting voice—bone of that bunch will be postmaster if Ollie can help it—and I guess he can, don't you think?

Fight 'em to a finish, O. J. A man can fight hard when knows he's right and time has proven that with one or two exceptions, perhaps, you have always been right. Your friend,

J. M. Meloan.

P. S.: I heard the speaking at Hazel Saturday. I found also that Mr. Hendrick is as popular there now as he ever was, and they have not forgotten now he stood by Goebel.

"Singing Joe" Again.

Detroit, Tex., June 16, 1912. Editor of the Ledger: I will, after a long delay, attempt to write you a short letter.

Health of this country is very good. Crops of all kinds are late but fine corn is from knee to shoulder high, some silking. Cotton is doing fairly well.

We had a fine rain over all of east Texas this week. Some hail and wind storms.

We have as fine a fruit crop as I ever saw. There has been several cars of Wheeler peaches shipped north from here and will be many more. The Elberta peach crop is immense here this year and will be shipped in train loads. I know of one orchard of 1,900 acres of this fruit and one of pears containing 1,100 acres. So you can see that East Texas is fast growing into a fine fruit belt.

I am glad to state that all Kentucky people are doing well here. Most of them own their land and are building good homes. Land is still advancing in price. Many people are coming here from the dry West of Texas and Oklahoma. I see from the Ledger the death of many of my old friends in Calloway which reminds me that we too are getting older and at the age of sixty will soon be one of the past. Our children are nearly all grown (12 of them in all). All here but one girl who is in Tennessee.

What has become of your correspondent from Arkansas, Mr. Vinson? I miss his letters so much.

We have a hot campaign on here for United States Senator and Governor and Congress, also for county officers. Mr. Walters is in lead for senator and O. B. Colquitt for governor.

Well as I failed to make the landing in the Ledger with my last letter I will ring off here and write more next time if this fails to get in the rubbish pile. Hoping much success to all Kentucky and old friends, I am

WILSON GETS

Passing Clark on the Thirtieth Ballot.

MISSOURI TAUNTS BRYAN

Banner Bearing Commoner's
Praise of Speaker Clark is Carried in Front of the Nebraska Delegation

Baltimore.—The deadlock in the Democratic national convention over a presidential nominee seemed more complete than ever when adjournment was taken at 12:42 a.m. Tuesday until noon. Woodrow Wilson has made steady gains during Monday's balloting until he reached a high water mark of 501 1/2 votes on the thirtieth ballot. He remained stationary on the fourth ballot, and then began to lose ground. The last ballot was the forty-second, when Wilson polled 494 votes.

Speaker Champ Clark reached the low ebb of his candidacy on the 29th ballot where Wilson reached a crest. He went down to 422 votes at that time, but immediately began to pick up, and had gone to 430 when adjournment was taken.

Wilson, with the thirty-fifth ballot, and on the thirty-ninth, had passed the 500 mark with one and a half votes to spare. Clark in the same ballots lost eleven votes.

On the fortieth call of the roll Wilson's 501 1/2 remained the same and Clark's 422 was the same. The delegates at large, however, voted for Wilson 422 to 422 votes at that time, but immediately began to pick up, and had gone to 430 when adjournment was taken.

At the end of the fortieth ballot, a tie vote of 422 each, moved to the 41st ballot, but when a roll call on the 41st ballot was demanded by the Wilson forces, they withdrew it.

Another attempt was made to adjourn after the forty-first ballot, and again it failed.

The prevailing sentiment from the floor was that nothing definite had been accomplished to bring the balloting to a close, and that if anything had been accomplished, it was not what the delegates wanted. They recognized that the convention has been replete with many sudden and sensational changes that a break or a new coup might come at any time.

Many of the state delegations had formal caucuses in the convention hall. The controversy between Speaker Clark and Mr. Bryan was the uppermost subject of conversation, its probable effect being generally debated. In all others the hall men engaged in heated debate.

The thirty-third ballot found the leaders practically at a standstill. Wilson merely holding his total of the thirty-second ballot, while Clark gained one from Underwood in Virginia.

At the end of the thirty-fourth ballot, Clark people revived their drooping spirits by displaying a big banner on which the following tribute to Clark from W. J. Bryan in 1910 was printed in bold letters:

"I have known Clark a dozen years. He is absolutely incorruptible and his life is above reproach. Never in all these years have I known him to be upon but one side of the question and that was the side that represented the people."

There was a cheer as the Missourians displayed the banner above the delegation. It continued for several minutes.

"Take it over to Nebraska and show it to Bryan," shouted some one.

For Right-Following.

No sooner was this said than the Missourians acted on the suggestion. Then came trouble.

Bryan arose and faced his opponents for a moment. Several policemen hurried to his side and with them a crowd of the Nebraska fair to Clark's aid.

In the uproar which followed, Bryan stood smiling in the center of a shrieking, excited mob. Half a dozen policemen charged into the crowd.

"Anything against Bryan?" shouted a Missouri delegate, shaking his fist at the smiling Nebraskan. From the sides the police rushed to the Nebraska delegation. Half a dozen men tried to follow, but the Clark men tried to carry their banner up on the platform behind Bryan. They called the press stand but were hurled back to the floor. Another series of fist fights ensued. A score of policemen fought in vain to quiet the shrieking, fighting mob.

At one end of the hall the huge Wilson banner used in previous Democratic conventions appeared. An angry howl from the Clark men greeted it. The feeling was running so high that a serious disturbance was threatened, and the Wilson managers, to avoid further fights, ordered the picture withdrawn.

Meantime the crowd of struggling men at the foot of the platform battled to get the Clark banner on the stage.

Chairman James hurried and took the gavel from Mr. Lamb. After five minutes of effort the chairman, aided by the police, secured some semblance of order.

Mr. James finally announced the beginning of the thirty-fourth ballot, and Alabama, as usual, cast her twenty-four votes for Underwood, while Mr. Bryan, who had stood for several minutes stolid as an Indian, was recognized.

"Go on and vote," called a delegate. "Stop him—we want to go home; we don't want a speech. He's paid to stay here. We're not."

Chairman James explained that Mr. Bryan had argued to a question of personal privilege and was entitled to be heard.

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston objected on the ground that he had been denied the privilege of explaining a change of vote in the Massachusetts delegation.

Mr. James said the mayor would be heard after Mr. Bryan had spoken.

Mr. Bryan then was allowed to proceed, for a moment.

"I was seated in my delegation when a banner was placed in front of us. I asked those in charge of it to remove it. They refused. I went to the Missouri delegation and asked the chairman whether it had been sent there by Missouri delegation. If that was so, I am authorized to say by the persons in charge of that banner, I have nothing to say. If that was done by the order of Missouri delegation, I claim the right to answer the question they propounded."

A howling, interrupted "him," the chair regrets to rule that the gentleman from Nebraska has not stated a question of personal privilege."

A cheer greeted this, and Mr. Bryan bowed and left the stand. As he passed the Missouri delegation, former Gov. A. M. Dokey stopped him and disclaimed for the delegation any connection with the appearance of the banner. Mr. Bryan bowed and took his seat with the Nebraska delegation.

The convention was a turmoil, long after Bryan had taken his seat. There were several fist fights among delegates, and the big force of policemen had their hands full quelling the outbreaks.

ASKS OPINION AS TO SALARY INCREASE

DOUBT WHETHER ACT APPLIES TO PRESENT OFFICIALS.

AUDITOR WANTS TO KNOW

Act Conflicts With Law Which Says
Salary of an Official Cannot Be Changed During His Term of Office.

Frankfort.—Whether state officials, whose salary was increased by act of the legislature will draw warrants on the new basis or the old basis is a question that has been presented to the attorney general for his opinion. Under acts of the last legislature the secretary of state, the superintendent of public instruction and the assistant auditor general were given increases in their salaries. The auditor wants to know if the present officials in those offices can draw the increase in the face of the provision of the law which says the salary of an official cannot be changed during his term of office. The acts became effective on June 10 and the first warrants for June salaries are due. The auditor was in doubt about how much to pay each official, so asked the opinion.

It is contended by those officials whose salary has been increased that their duties also were increased and for that reason they are entitled to increased pay, under the decision of the court of appeals in the act allowing circuit judges an increase.

DUBIOUS

About What Her Husband Would Say.

A Mich. woman tried Postum because of a disagreement with her husband. Tea is just as harmful as coffee because it contains caffeine—the same drug found in coffee. She writes:

"My husband was sick for three years with catarrh of the bladder, and palpitation of the heart, caused by coffee. Was unable to work at all and in bed part of the time.

"I had stomach trouble, was weak and fretful so I could not attend to my housework—both of us using coffee all the time and not realizing it was harmful.

"One morning the grocer's wife said she believed coffee was the cause of our trouble and advised Postum. I took it home rather dubious what my husband would say—he was fond of coffee.

"But I took coffee right off the table and we haven't used a cup of it since.
You should have seen the change in us, and now my husband never complains of heart palpitation any more.
My stomach trouble went away in two weeks after I began Postum. My children love it, and it does them good, which can't be said of coffee.

"A lady visited us who was usually half sick. I told her I'd make her a cup of Postum. She said it was tasteless stuff, but she watched me make it, boiling it thoroughly for 15 minutes, and when done, she said it was splen-

Conserve Health

Good Food Much Better Than Flashy Dress

By MRS. J. E. TABLER, San Francisco

ANY PERSON with little of this world's goods, dependent upon himself for a livelihood, has no more important possession than his health; therefore, he should husband it with the greatest possible care. He may skip easily enough on his food to a limit, i. e., a point to go beyond which would jeopardize his health. Should his finances be such that he must either go for some time without plain, nourishing food (if he be a person possessing no more than an average constitution), or without some new garment, it would be far wiser for him to again clean and repair his old garment and wear it until he may have a new one, without injury to his health. Moreover, one dressed in clean, well-cared-for clothes is never really poorly dressed, even though the clothes show wear.

Even should a person deprive himself of proper food, and in that way manage to make a good appearance for a time, thus enabling himself to secure a start which would make him a financial success in life, if ill health came with or before the success, as a result of his having undermined his constitution through lack of proper nourishment, what real pleasure or satisfaction could he have?

Another point: every one knows that there is a wonderful satisfaction, which is often beneficial, in appearing prosperous; but, personally, how I appear to myself is quite as important as how I appear to others in making me feel satisfied. I am sure, therefore, that with worn but clean and well-cared-for clothing, and a stomach not asking for what is rightfully its due, I could make a much more self-respecting appearance than I could with the most up-to-date raiment covering an abused and complaining stomach. I know if I were hungry I should make a gaunt and hungry appearance, though I might be ever so well-dressed.

I will not attempt to make denial or affirmation as to the reasoning power of brute animals, but I would like to ask whether human beings reason. It seems to me that in the majority of cases they do not. Man in his monumental egotism has placed himself far above animals in intellect and reasoning power, but often he shows himself absolutely devoid of reason. Take, for instance, a man who is all ambition for hoarding up money. He has worked the best part of his years, spent all his energy, denied himself the necessities of life, sacrificed even his children upon the altar of greed, and accumulates enough filthy lucre to last him 150 years if he should live that long. But does he stop trying to heap up money? Does he realize that he has enough? Does he cease to trample upon his fellow man who is less fortunate than himself? Most decidedly not.

The lower animals take better care of their offspring. Where, then, does man's reason come in?

And at last when he dies some dissolute relative will squander this money that comes to him through inheritance. And this dissolute one will also be totally devoid of reasoning power, as he will spend it all as fast as possible in riotous living and then be destitute and broken down in health in his old age.

I could cite many more instances where man shows lack of reasoning powers. The more I think of these cases, the more my heart goes out to these poor dumb animals who are very much maligned and misjudged through the colossal ignorance of mighty man.

In spite of all that may be said to be to one's contrary one's first duty in life is to one's self. You should see to it that your mental and physical affairs are at all times in prime condition. The patriot somewhat correctly tells you that your first duty in life is to your country; to be patriotic, to yell yourself hoarse when the flag is raised on the Fourth of July. But your yell will be the squeak of a mouse if you have frittered away your lungs by living and sleeping in canned air.

Again, truthfully said, your first duty is to your family. The great warrior Lee forsook the Union he loved so much for the blood kin he yet loved better. But how can you, with impoverished body, be a good parent or breed up the race or escape seeing your children a curse to themselves if they are constant patrons of the doctor and drug store, or are walking hospitals and too early prey for the undertaker?

Your employer properly claims that during business hours your first duty is to the work in hand. Once get your body oxygenated by living right, no small part of which is to live and sleep in the open air, and all work becomes a pleasure instead of drudgery. You will get to work on time, instead of a few minutes late, as is the custom with canned air sleepers, followed by the inevitable promotion, raise in salary and success in life.

After all, one's first duty is to get well and stay well.

A recent article in a prominent magazine dwelt upon the necessity of disinfecting books given out in the public libraries. This is indeed necessary, for many diseases, such as scarlet fever, typhoid fever, diphtheria, consumption and many other affections can be distributed by the books. Many times the volumes are read by sick persons, and the very handling of the books by the patients is conducive to spread of contagion, not taking into consideration that patients wet their fingers to turn the pages, as many do. Therefore all books in the libraries should be disinfected. To this end the health department should co-operate by sending the libraries lists of houses from where contagious diseases are reported. As to methods of disinfecting the books, that could best be done, perhaps, under supervision of the health department.

The magazine which published the article on disinfection said that steam had been found very satisfactory

500 LIVES LOST IN TERRIBLE TORNADO

$10,000,000 PROPERTY DAMAGE AT REGINA.

NEARLY THOUSAND INJURED

Aid Arrives, but Great Confusion Prevails, and It Is Impossible to Estimate Full Damage of the Calamity.

Winnipeg.—It is estimated that from 400 to 500 persons were killed and property loss of $10,000,000 entailed by a tornado, which, after a day of thunderstorms and high winds, struck Regina, Saskatchewan, Sunday.

The local telephone office was wrecked and it is feared that fifteen girls employed there were killed.

The tornado first struck the new parliament building, just completed at a cost of $2,000,000. The building is of steel and concrete and while it still stands is badly shaken.

The storm swept northward, moving a path six blocks wide through the fashionable residence district. Along Victoria street from sixteenth to eleventh streets, 200 houses were destroyed and many people were hurled high in the air and dropped blocks away.

Warehouses, banking institutions and retail stores were sent into heaps of ruins, while the air was filled with the wreckage.

Six big grain elevators were toppled over like teapins, the timbers being piled in heaps on the tracks.

The magnitude of the calamity which Regina had suffered, while growing in realization as the rescue work proceeded, could not be fully estimated at a late hour. It seemed certain, however, that the casualties would run up to a total of between 400 and 500.

Every ambulance in the city was worked to its limit, carrying the bodies of the killed and the scores of injured persons to the hospitals, which were filled early in the evening, and to improvised hospitals in some of the larger buildings left standing. Crowds of volunteers all over the city are assisting in the work of searching the wreckage, and for hours hardly a minute went by that a dead body or the mangled form of some living victim was not uncovered.

COTTON PROGRESSED IN BELT

Conditions in Oklahoma and Texas Are Nearly Ideal.

Memphis.—The cotton crop advanced during the past week in spite of cool weather and rather too much rain in most of the belt for the good of the plant.

West of the river, and especially in Oklahoma and Texas, the plant has a splendid progress. With the ground full of moisture, soil in high state of cultivation and fields clean, the plant has grown rapidly under the influence of warm weather and open sunshine.

Oklahoma the crop is still regarded as somewhat late, but many Texas correspondents say that the plant in that state has overcome its late start. In Arkansas and Louisiana good progress was made by the crop, which is in good condition, but cool nights deferred developments more in these states than they did in Texas and Oklahoma.

TREASURY SURPLUS IS BIG

Government Closes Fiscal Year in Good Shape.

Washington.—The federal government closed the fiscal year with a surplus of $32,000,000, according to estimates based upon incomplete returns from the various sources of revenue. This amount far exceeded the expectations of Secretary MacVeagh, who months ago estimated that the surplus would be $10,000,000.

The surplus at the close of 1911 was $45,682,000.

China Rejects Loan

London.—The Peking correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that China absolutely rejects the demands of the six-power group which were that the loan must be $300,000,000; that three European financial supervisors must be appointed, and that the group must have its financial agents in China for five months, during which there should be no issue of bonds and no business of any kind involving the pledging of China's credit without the supervisors' signatures.

JEROME SHIFTS HIS ATTACK

Prosecution's Efforts to Wear Thaw Out Were Fruitless—Says Mantle of Hummel Fell on Jerome.

White Plains, N. Y.—Harry K. Thaw and William Travers Jerome had an all-day debate at the trial of Thaw's application for release from the Matteawan Insane Asylum, their frequent verbal passages at arms keeping the big crowd in the court at a high pitch.

Thaw, while not losing his temper at any stage, flung back some caustic replies to leading questions of the attorney who was putting Stanford White's slayer through what was termed a "mental examination." The witness repeatedly questioned Jerome's motives in opposing to Thaw's release, and at one point, when he was asked for whom he thought the attorney was acting, he flung back with this:

"Mr. Jerome, I have been told that when you sent Abe Hummel up the river—and you didn't send him up the river only the workhouse—that the mantle of Abe Hummel fell on the shoulders of William Travers Jerome."

Mr. Jerome frequently shifted the base of his attack with the apparent purpose of confusing Thaw. Switching abruptly at one point, he asked:

"If you were not insane when you shot White it was murder, was it?"

Thaw replied, refusing to lose his calm:

HOUN' DOG ON THE SUN

New Sun Spot Has an Area of 90,000,000 Square Miles.

Washington.—Private views of the sun taken here by the enormous cavity in the photosphere of the sun show that it is in the shape of a houn' dawg, and it has been designated "spot" by Prof. Asaph Hall, in charge of the United States naval observatory in Washington.

This sun dog spot is 14,000 miles long, including the tail, and has an area of about 90,000,000 square miles, this being one mile to the good for every inhabitant of the United States. Prof. Hall and Peters say it is only a small spot, but their admit it is about five times the width of the United States from coast to coast, or a trifle less than that.

The theory of all astronomers is that sun spots influence terrestrial affairs.

Gov. Aldrich of Nebraska Says He Will Remain Regular.

Lincoln, Neb.—Gov. Aldrich announced that he would not serve on the committee of eighteen appointed by Gov. Johnson of California to take the lead in organizing the new "Progressive" party composed of Roosevelt adherents. Gov. Aldrich declared he would "stay regular."

Politicians interested in preventing a schism in the party in Nebraska have a plan for fusion of the third party and the regular Republicans or everything but the presidential ticket.

STOKES RUNS DOWN GIRL

New York.—W. E. D. Stokes, former proprietor of the Hotel Astoria, and recently the victim of a shooting by Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad, was riding at a rapid rate down Broadway when his big touring car struck a girl of 15 and hurled her fifteen feet.

Dr. Hildreth, who examined her, found one of her hips was shattered, both arms were broken, her collar bone was fractured and she was injured internally.

Hempstead, N. Y.—Posing himself on the extra seat of a biplane by Harold R. The first parachute opened when he had dropped thirty feet and the second when he was half way to earth. The aeronaut had begun to collapse just as Law jumped. Its ability was not disturbed.

WOMAN DASHED TO HER DEATH

WITH W. A. P. WILLARD, FELL A THOUSAND FEET.

STRUCK IN SHALLOW WATER

Both Bodies Were Badly Crushed by the Fall—Were Returning From Twenty-Mile Flight Over Boston Harbor.

Boston.—Miss Harriet Quimby, of New York, the first woman to win an aviator's license in America, and the first woman to cross the English channel in an aeroplane, was instantly killed with her passenger, W. A. P. Willard, manager of the Boston aviation meet, when her Blériot monoplane fell into Dorchester bay from a height of a thousand feet.

The accident happened when Miss Quimby and Willard were returning from a trip over Boston harbor to Boston light, a distance of 20 miles in all. The flight was made in 20 minutes. The Blériot, one of the latest models of military monoplane, circled the aviation field and soared out over the Nevin Hill yacht club just outside the aviation grounds.

Heading back into the eight-mile gusty wind, Miss Quimby started to volplane. The angle was too sharp and one of the guests caught the tail of the monoplane, throwing the machine up perpendicular. For an instant it poised there. Then, sharply outlined against the setting sun, Willard was thrown clear of the chassis, followed almost immediately by Miss Quimby. Hurting over and over, the two figures shot downward, striking the water 20 feet from shore. They splashed out of sight a second before the monoplane plunged down 16 feet away.

It was low tide and the water was only five feet deep.

Both bodies were badly crushed. Several of Miss Quimby's bones were broken and there were many large bruises. Willard, who weighed 190 pounds, hit the water face first and over one eye there was a gash from which the blood was flowing. He, too, sustained several fractures and bruises.

NITROGLYCERINE EXPLOSION

DuPont Powder Company's Plant Exploded, One Man Killed.

Muskogee, Okla.—A terrific explosion of nitroglycerine at the DuPont Powder Company's plant killed C. J. O'Brien, an employee of the company, injured J. H. Hiesberger and broke most of the plate glass in the town of Muskogee. O'Brien's body was blown to atoms, all that was left being a part of his skull. Fragments of his clothing and splintered bones were picked up within a half mile of the plant.

A strange freak of the explosion was the fact that Hiesberger, who was closest to the mixer, was stripped naked and not seriously hurt. Not a stitch of clothing was left on him.

NEGRO SOLDIER ACCUSED

Assault on White Woman of Seattle Is Alleged.

Seattle, Wash.—All the negro soldiers of the four companies of the Twenty-fifth infantry, the "Brownsville regiment," stationed at Fort Lawton, are confined to quarters in an effort to identify a soldier, who is alleged to have attacked Mrs. F. Pratt, a white woman.

Mrs. Pratt said she was seized by the negro soldier, who drew a razor when she struggled to get free. She grabbed the razor and in the tussle that followed she says she broke the handle and that the blade, she thinks, cut the man's hand. She screamed and ran away.

CHASE OVER HOOEETOPS

Two Countrymen, Fleeing Police, Receive Mortal Injuries.

Louisville, Ky.—At the end of their perilous flight over a block of house tops, police in hazardous pursuit, Alva and Gould Bishop, countrymen, blood flowing from numerous cuts they sustained in flight, toppled over a raised cornice and pitched headlong toward the pavement, two stories below.

Gould fell to the street with a crash, while Alva struck a trolley guy wire in his descent and was snatched across the street and upon the roof of a one-story building. Conrad Berry, the Bishops' antagonist, well nigh vanquished when the police entered his back yard, where the fight was in progress, is covered with knife wounds. All are in the city hospital and living, though recovery is scarcely considered possible.

SOCIALIST POLITICAL FUND

Campaign Expenditures in 1904 and 1908 Not Over $2,000.

Washington.—The campaign expenditures of the Socialist party in either 1904 or 1908 did not exceed $1,000, according to an affidavit of Paul A. Agostini, secretary of the Socialist party, submitted to the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures in those years. No individual contribution larger than $25 was received, he declared.

STATE CLAIMS TAXES

Chicago.—In a bill filed in the circuit court a decree is asked directing the trustees of the Marshall Field estate to compromise and settle with the state of Wisconsin for taxes alleged to be due under the inheritance law. Although the state claims $109,000 is due, arrangements have been made to settle the amount for $75,000, according to the bill.

The estate owned unimproved tracts of land worth $300,000 and 25,000 shares of stock in four railroads, which the state claims the right to tax.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Judge Alben Barkley, of Paducah, McCracken county, Ky., as a candidate to represent the First congressional district of Kentucky in the lower branch of the United States congress, subject to the action of the democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Denny P. Smith, of Cadiz, Trigg county, Ky., as a candidate to represent the First congressional district of Kentucky in the lower branch of the United States congress, subject to the action of the democratic party.

We are authorized to announce John K. Hendrick, of Paducah, McCracken county, Ky., as a candidate to represent the First congressional district of Kentucky in the lower branch of the United States congress, subject to the action of the democratic party.

When the voters of the First Congressional district go to the polls August 3 they will have confronting them a plain, blunt, business proposition, as well as a duty to perform. In selecting a man to represent them in Congress they will certainly want the best man available—the one best qualified to fill the place. Perhaps never before in history was it more imperative than now that they should seriously consider and weigh carefully the qualifications of the men asking their suffrage for this important office because the next Congress is going to be the most important session in 60 years, if not in history. Problems of government must be solved upon which hangs the destiny of this great nation—certainly it is no time for quibbling or simple personal preference.

The race for this important position has been made up and the entries closed. Only Hendrick, Corbett, Barkley or Smith will be voted for and one of these gentlemen will be your next congressman. Mr. Hendrick has had experience in legislative affairs. He has served with distinction in the Kentucky State Senate and in Congress. It was while in the State Senate he took a prominent part in the history-making of this state. It was Hendrick who introduced a resolution that caused the investigation into the affairs of the state treasurer and uncovered the shortage of Dick Tate. It was Hendrick that went to Rowan county and there brought order out of chaos.

In Congress, though serving but one term, he took rank with the leaders of the house. It was Hendrick that drafted and secured the passage of the law that today prohibits speculation in government claims causing a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars to the government annually and the amount only increases as time goes on. He is today at the summit of his usefulness and in a position to give the best service of his career.

On the other hand, it is doubtful if either of Hendrick's opponents ever saw the United States Congress in session, if they have it was but for a day or two days. They are young, and while they may give promise of a bright future, no man can say they are ready for the task that will be before the next Congress. In ability, that can only come from experience, their warmest supporter must admit that they do not measure up to Hendrick's standard. And the same witness if called to testify would be bound to say that Hendrick has more ability and is better qualified, if he is equally as honest and no man can dispute that he is not.

Applying the cold steel of business reasoning can the voter hesitate in making a selection. Suppose you were going to hire a man to represent you in a difficult and complex business transaction and four men applied for the job. Would you not use care and judgment in making your selection? Certainly you would. You would choose the man who, by reason of his understanding of the questions at issue—his experience in settling other questions of a similar nature in the past to represent your interests.

The selection of a congressman is just a business proposition but far more important. The man you help to elect will not only be your individual representative but a representative of the whole district. Even though you would be dissatisfied yourself with incompetent representation or willing to take chances on a man's development but is it fair to your neighbor who may have greater interests at stake? Will not the man elected be his representative as well as yours?

In all seriousness and candor we appeal to the voters to stop and consider only qualifications before they vote and if they do only one thing can result—John K. Hendrick will go back to Congress.

COMPULSORY

School Attendance Law That Should Be Given a Careful Reading by Parents and Obeyed.

The compulsory school attendance enacted by the last legislature and which became a law June 12th is one of importance to the people and its provisions should be known by all parents and guardians of children. For the information of all the people we publish following the full text of the law:

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Sec. 1. That every parent, guardian or other person residing within the boundary of the county school district law, and having the custody, control or supervision of any child, or children between the ages of seven and twelve years, inclusive, shall cause such child or children to be enrolled in and to attend some public or private day or parochial school regularly for the full common school term in each year in the common school district of the county in which such child or children may live in this Commonwealth. Provided, however, that this act shall not apply in any case where the child has been or is being taught at home in the public schools for a like period of time and subject to the same examination as other pupils in the district in which such child resides; and for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not any child is embraced within this exemption by County Court may order such child to submit to an examination to be given by the county superintendent of schools. Provided, further, that this section shall not apply to any child who is excused by the County Board of Education, upon its being shown to the satisfaction of the county superintendent of schools that such child is not in proper physical or mental condition to attend school.

Sec. 2. Any parent, guardian or other person having the custody, control or supervision of any child embraced within the provisions of this act, who with the intent to evade the provisions of this act, shall make a false statement concerning the age of such child or the time such child has attended school, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof may be fined in any sum not exceeding fifty dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding thirty days, or both so fined and imprisoned at the discretion of the court.

Any person, guardian or other person having the custody, control or supervision of any child embraced within this act who shall be proceeded against under this act, may prove in defense that he is unable to compel the child under his control to attend school, and he may thereupon be discharged from liability, and such child shall be proceeded against as a delinquent child under the statutes in such cases made and provided.

Sec. 3. Any parent, guardian or other person failing to comply with the provisions of this act shall forfeit to the use of the schools within the district in which such child lives a sum not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than twenty dollars ($20.00) for the first offense nor less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for the second and every subsequent offense, and cost of suit.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the teachers to report promptly and regularly to the sub-district trustees or other local school officers and to the County Board of Education through the county superintendent of schools, the names of all parents, guardians or other persons who fail to comply with the provisions of this act. It shall then be the duty of said sub-district trustee or other local school officers, and said County Boards of Education through the county superintendent of schools to give written notice to the parents, guardians or other persons having control or custody of such child that the attendance of such child is required, and if such parent, guardian or other person having control or supervision of such child does not comply immediately with the provisions of this act, then said sub-district trustees or other local school officers, and said Board of Education shall proceed against such child as a delinquent child, and against such parents, guardians or other person having the custody, control or supervision of such child for violation of this act for contributing to the delinquency of such child.

Sec. 5. The County Courts of the respective counties of the Commonwealth shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all cases coming within the terms and provisions of this act, and any fines or penalties may be recovered by rule or in any way in which a Court of Equity may enforce its orders or decrees.

Sec. 6. A passport, a duly attested transcript or the certificate of birth or baptism, a certified copy under oath of a record in the family Bible, or other religious record showing the date and place of birth of such child shall be produced as proof of age. In case such certificate or record as hereinafter provided can not be secured, upon proof of such fact, the record of the age stated in the first enrollment to be found shall be considered as evidence thereof. If there be no school enrollment showing such fact, other evidence as to the age of said child shall be considered.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

A Notice to Nimrods.

The penalty is now on for hunting without license, except on your own premises, owned or leased, and for poisoning, trapping or dynamiting fish. Game wardens are also at large ready to nab violators of the fish or game laws and subject them to a fine or imprisonment, or both, and confiscate their paraphernalia.

Resident hunters who have lived in the state twelve months, preceding, may obtain a license by paying $1.00; non-residents, $15.00. Licenses are issued by county clerks on property application, who will furnish blanks for the purpose.

Our county clerk has not yet been supplied with blanks, but will be in a few days, we are told, in time for the hunters to be ready for the open season on squifrels and young rabbits.

All persons hunting without a license in possession ready to be exhibited to any one demanding same, will be subject to a fine of not less than $10.00 nor more than $25. Licenses are not transferable. "Any person who shall make to an officer, authorized to issue hunting license, a false statement or change or alter his license in any manner, shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred dollars ($200), to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail." This is going after them some. We would better pay our little dollar, and be good law-abiding citizens and at the same time help to protect the fish and birds.

The law is also very stringent in regard to killing song birds. Some little boys were seen Sunday afternoon on a main street with an air gun—shooting at robins, orioles and other birds that came within range. Stop it, boys, or you will get into trouble.

Cedar Lane.

Farmers in bottoms are about disgusted about a crop this year continued wet weather is ruining crops in the low lands, tobacco doing no good, wheat not much good, fruit fine.

Dr. A. G. Grugett, one of Calloways best citizens died the past week at his home north of Backusburg, aged about 40 years.

Lee Harrison, a young man of this section died a few days ago of lung trouble. Burriel took place at Mt. Carmel, near Kirksey—he was a W. O. W. at Cedar Lane Camp.

The big waters have played the wild with roads and bridges down in this part of the county.

Now as to the stock law down this way, there is 15 to 1 in favor of a stock law. There is some people that fence all their land up and join up their fences to their neighbors fence and turn their stock out on other people to be bothered with, still there are others that have to keep his stock up on account of some shiftless rascal who too infernal lazy to repair their fence but will cripple up stock, and then tell you to keep your stock up. We have no way to compel such people to fix a fence, but we must and we will, vote a law this fall to compel every one to build against his own stock and we too, want the ballots made so plain that there will be no misunderstanding as to the correct way of voting as was done 3 or 4 years ago to confuse the voter as to which way was the correct way. It is a known fact there is always a set of know nothings on hand to show the people how to vote. Of course such "know all's" as this don't know anything about it and only do this to make some one think what posted fellows they are. And as to the poor man that has to rent, I feel sure that a stock law will be to his advantage—for those that that have croppers can well afford to furnish a pasture, as he will not be compelled to have so much fencing to do, they can afford to give the renter a better chance. Again how many renters are there in the county today that don't have to buy his bacon from one of those so-called "Poor-mans-Friend" at about two prices. I am sorry for the poor man that have to rent and wish they all had homes of their own. But to the scamp who writes against the stock law as the "poor man's friend" is all hot air, for they are the very ones that makes the burden as heavy as it is on the poor man. So now "Poor-Man's Friend" when you come again get from behind the bush and put your name to the article and let us see if you are white, black or purple. I may come again. — John H. Turner.

Scott & Bower, Gloucester, N. J.

Mr. Jack Wall, formerly of Murray, and Miss Grey, of Edyville, who were married Sunday and left for their future home in Corbin, Ky. Mr. Wall is a rising young lawyer and we predict that he will do well in his new location where he is associated in the law business with Mr. Hafford Hay. The young bride is a charming and well known young lady. Our good wishes go with them.

Company "L."

The equipment has been received for Company L, Kentucky 3rd Infantry, National State Guards. Work has commenced on the Armory which is being built by Otis Churchill on the lot just north of the county jail. This company numbers about forth-eight and the officers elected are as follows: Captain, Homer McKee; 1st Lieutenant, Leand Owen; 2nd Lieutenant, Luther Dick; 1st Sergeant, Dee Mitchell; 1st duty Sergeant, Gibson Hale; Quarter-master Sergeant, Henry Smoot.

Frightful Polar Winds.

blow with terrific force at the far north and play havoc with the skin, causing red, rough and chapped hands and legs, that need Bucklen's Arnica Salve to heal them. Training and Sales Stables.

I am now located at the Mason & Irvan stock barn, just west of the city limits, one of the finest barns in West Kentucky, fine box stalls, well ventilated and plenty of light, and am now prepared to train your trotters and pacers. I have had thirty years experience with harness horses and can give the best of references as to my ability as a trainer. A months training of a young horse will increase his value as a road horse if he should not develop as a speeder. Come and see me and I will give you a square deal. Yours truly, Jas. Taylor.

A Hero in a Lighthouse.

For years J. S. Donahue, So. Haven, Mich., a Civil War Captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck himself, if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken so called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. Only 50c at Dale & Stubblefield.

Consuming Thirst.

Some one, or more, entered express office Saturday night and stole all the liquors. Several gallons of whiskey and boxes of medicine were stolen. The loss of the medicine must have been a case of mistaken identity for they were addressed to the doctors of the town and the thief evidently thought they contained alcohol. It was surely a painful disappointment to have been dreadfully thirsty and open up a bottle of cod liver oil.

Health & Beauty Hints

By Katherine Morton

"Girls of sixteen and even younger often write me for complexion formulas and I always feel like saying the same thing to them all:

"My dear children, you have it in your own hands to possess not only a good, but very likely a beautiful, complexion."

And if I did say this thing I should be speaking the absolute truth.

Now let us consider the complexion defects which afflict so many girls between the ages of twelve and eighteen. Pimples, oily skin and large pores are the chiefest ones, and these are largely attributable to unhygienic habits.

The proof of the statement is that girls who are looked after very carefully and who are warned by their mothers against mental excitement, rarely have them. Left to their own judgments about their health, the girls with complexion worries have neglected their bowels, ignored the importance of the hot bath, been lazy about exercise, have eaten coarse or highly seasoned foods, have drunk too much ice water, have slept in close rooms and done everything else they ought not to have done. Of what benefit to these young girls would complexion formulas be? Their heads are buried in the sand of ignorance as to the needs of their own little bodies, and there is nothing to do but wake up their understanding as to the operations of nature herself.

There is that much abused organ, the liver, to which is intrusted so many of the chemical processes of the body. If it is clogged through having too much work thrown upon it as in gourmandizing or when deprived of the mechanical action needed to stimulate the flow of its juices, as in a sedentary life, it is not ordinary waste matter which is thrown back into the blood, but foreign products which no organ knows what to do with. It is in this condition, the existence of poisonous matter, which gives rise to so many complexion defects, and when the liver is so clogged there is nothing to do but give the system a complete clearing out. An innocent little dose of castor oil, bought at the drug store for ten cents and doctored with five drops of brandy to keep it from griping, will start the liver to a better action through freely moving the bowels. The oil must be taken on an empty stomach, on going to bed, and the next morning it is wise to take a bottle of citrate of magnesia to start the movement of the intestines and further clear them.

A diet of laxative foods after this will continue the good work of keeping the bowels in good order, all fresh fruits, cooked rhubarb, and raw prunes, spinach and greens coming under this head. As a beautifier to the skin, and a gentle laxative, molasses, too, is unequalled, but it is necessary to get the very dark, rich kind and eat it with coarse bread, such as graham and rye, whose rough grain is very beneficial in clearing the bowels. A sufficient quantity of pure drinking water between meals, taken hot or cold, is required, and if a squeeze of lemon juice is added to the hot water at least once a day the complexion is further cleared. Other drinks of a refreshing sort to the skin might be saffron and spearmint tea. The saffron is prepared by steeping the roots in boiling water, and the infusion may be taken hot or cold.

This getting of the bowels in good order and keeping them so with fresh foods and drinking water is required for the preliminary treatment of every skin trouble—pimples, large pores, oily condition, discolorations and sallowness. Even freckles, those teasing little skin sprites which are so hard to banish, are more easily dispersed and dimmed if the bowels are cleared first.

As to other foods useful for clearing the complexion, milk, sweet and sour, is undoubtedly beautifying, milk possessing the lactic acid which bleaches the skin, and being about the most natural of all foods to the stomach. Sweet butter is also preferable to salt, while a liberal diet of green salads, prepared with olive oil and lemon juice, through the help they give in the digesting of heavier foods, is certainly to be recommended. The anemic girl who needs all the nourishment she can get should, however take her salad with mayonnaise, which is in a way quite solid food and easily digested as well. In fact, the more olive oil the thin girl takes the better, and it would do her far more good than harm if she consumed, besides, four raw eggs a day.

Needle Work Bit.
A little piece of needle work that a woman who embroiders can finish in a couple of hours or so is in lieu of fat how shape stamped around the edge for scalloping and at each side the center for two big eyelets. The rabbit that falls below this place is also stamped for scalloping and with a small pattern on the end. The eyelets are to be finished with a velvet ribbon bow.

Cleaner.
A vacuum cleaner is a device that has been invented and drawn through a small tube, while small between the two ends of the tube, a small piece of cloth is placed in the way of the vacuum.

Social Forms and Entertainments

"Ignorant" Asks Questions.

Am going to entertain a young ladies' dorean. Can you tell me something new to serve—only four things. One of the guests will bring a friend whom none of us ever met. Am I supposed to introduce her to the guests, or is her hostess? Will you kindly tell me how a girl's name "Adelaide" is pronounced, also "Adole"—Ignorant.

Try this for your menu: It may not be new; but is a happy combination. First, halves of chilled canteloupe, then creamed sweetbreads and mushrooms (canned), green peas, rolls, cherry sherbet. If you can work in a salad course, have halves of pears with mayonnaise.

Either you or the hostess of the stranger may make the introductions; either is proper.

Pronounce "Adelaide" this way, "Ad-el-aid," and "Adole" with the mark over the first "e." "Ad-el-aid," without the mark over the "e" is generally called "Adell."

Better Not.
How should a boy ask a girl if he wants to kiss her? On parting at night, should he ask her if he can kiss her?—Billy.

Never, never, Billy boy, ask a girl to kiss you unless you're a man grown and you feel very sure that "she" is the girl of all girls whom you wish to make your wife. Let this be your rule. Do not ask a girl to do anything for you that you would not want your sister to do. Girls are perfectly delightful chums and comrades, but treat them as such; don't take the bloom of the rosebud or the blush from the peach, but treat your girl friends with all the reverence and protection that is their due and your privilege to give. Don't kiss, and don't hug. I wish I could write all this in capitals, so as to attract the attention of every boy and every girl who are good enough to read our department.

From "Sunshine."
I have been reading the questions, and have noticed many useful answers. Do you think there is harm in two young girl friends of sixteen spending a day at a park in their home town without their parents? And is there harm in having a gentleman friend of your own age at your home?—Sunshine.

I see no harm in going quietly to the park together and behaving like young girls should, nor in having a man visitor at your home with the permission of your parents. Men are not ogres, and I regret to say that it is often because girls are so very careless with themselves that we are forced to be on guard. If girls realized that their most act as to preserve their dignity, men would soon get over attempting to take any liberties.

Farewell Surprise Party.
I have planned to have a party for a friend who is to move to another town.

There are to be about twelve girls about thirteen or fourteen years old. Could you suggest some games and a menu for a light lunch? This is to be a surprise.—Topsy.

I feel sure, my dear, that with all the suggestions in today's paper that you will find just what you want for your party. All you will have to do is to explain to your guests that it is to be a surprise, so I would give the invitations verbally. If you want to get away friend, that could easily be arranged when you ask them.

When to Wear Them.
I enjoy your hints to the needy so much that I thought I would come to you for advice and also to settle an argument. On what occasions are silk hose (all colors) worn? I contend that they are to be worn with "dressed up" dresses and not with a street suit. Am I wrong? Please—answer this plainly, so I may show your answer to the other party.—Lettie.

With most people silk stockings are a question of cost, and not propriety. They may be worn on every occasion, with street suits and boudoir gowns, and with the simplest morning gowns in the kitchen.

The Proper Thing to Do.
In acknowledging a formal invitation, should one use note paper or the correspondence card? Is it ever permissible to attend a card party without having sent an acceptance?—J. W.

Either stationery is proper; of late the correspondence card seems in favor, marked with monogram, crest or street number, or all three.

Card party invitations should be accepted or regretted at once, and no one should go without notifying the hostess of their intention to attend.

MME. MERRI.

"All my friends are so surprised at my skin"

"I have been taking B.B.B. You can see the improvement in my skin. I have tried everything."

This is what Mr. H. Turner of Lynchburg, Va., writes us. And he hits the nail on the head when he says the improvement is in his blood.

Impure blood is the real source of all these distressing skin-complaints. And the reason our Botanic Blood Balm dispels them so quickly when other remedies fail, is because of its unusual power to cleanse the blood thoroughly; and renew it with fresh pure vitality.

No matter how severe and obstinate your case may be, there's hope for you in B.B.B. Our money back if it fails to help you.

MENACE IN SPITTING EVIL

Allegation is Made That the Habit is Responsible for 95 Per Cent of Consumption Cases.

"Ninety-five per cent of our consumption," says the North Carolina state board of health, "comes from careless spitting, coughing and sneezing," particularly on the part of the consumptive, but also from people who are apparently healthy. "Spit is frequently laden with deadly disease germs, particularly that of consumption."

"When one coughs, spits or sneezes, a great multitude of tiny drops of spitte are violently expelled from the mouth and nose. The largest of these drops can be readily seen. A large number of smaller droplets can be found if a mirror or piece of glass is held before the face when coughing or sneezing. A tremendous quantity of still smaller droplets are discharged in the form of an invisible spray or mist, which floats about in the air for some time. Scientists have found that when a man coughs, spits or sneezes in a large hall or room where the air is quiet, these tiny, invisible germ-laden droplets will float in the air for a distance of 25 to 100 feet. These tiny droplets, in the form of mist or spray, may be breathed in by other people, or they may settle on objects with which they come into intimate contact, such as food and clothing. Viewed in this light, such conduct is at least impolite. Furthermore, it is dangerous to the public at large to have careless people actually coughing, sneezing and spitting germ-laden matter into their faces, even if it is invisible and in the form of fine mist."

Stimulate Children?

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a strong and safe tonic for the young. Not a drop of alcohol in it.

Always keep a box of Ayer's Pills in the house. Just one pill at bedtime, now and then, will ward off many an attack of biliousness, indigestion, sick headache. How many years has your doctor known these pills? Ask him all about them. Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

New State Law Now Effective.

Among the most important acts that were passed by the last legislature and now the law having taken effect Wednesday, June 12, are the following:

Act creating the State road fund and remodeling the road laws.

Act creating a new Prison Commission to be appointed by the Governor.

Act abolishing public drinking cups.

Act providing for compulsory attendance of children at country schools as well as city schools.

Act extending the county unit law to all counties.

Act giving women the right to vote in all school elections.

Act establishing a Department of Banking and providing inspectors for the State banks.

Act providing that telephone companies must give interchangeable messages.

Act creating a Tuberculosis Commission and appropriating $15,000 a year to be used by the board.

Act creating a Forestry Commission.

Act creating a Game and fish Commission.

Act providing for a vote on a constitutional amendment to permit convicts to work on public roads.

Act providing for a vote on an amendment to section 171 of the Constitution, so that property may be classified for taxation.

Act providing that all warrants issued by fiscal courts shall bear six per cent interest.

And all the acts that had no emergency clause attached to them, are now the law of the land.

GOV. WILSON--GOV. MARSHALL

why Underwood had not withdrawn when Clark appeared to have a chance of nomination, and accused the Underwood delegates of "faking." The night session convened at 9:35 p. m.

The convention was called to order at 12:30 p. m. by Ollie James. On the forty-third ballot Illinois drew her fifty-eight votes from Clark to Wilson, the standing of the candidates being: Wilson, 602; Clark, 320; Underwood, 984; Harmon, 28; Foss, 27; Bryan, 1; Kern, 1.

When this ballot was called and Kentucky's turn came, a delegate asked if Kentucky could vote for Wilson if the majority of the delegates so desired. Gov. McCreary argued that they could not under their instructions, and the Wilson men did not press the point.

The forty-fourth ballot was ordered at 1:01 p. m. On this roll call Indiana voted solid for Wilson. The announcement of the totals brought the Wilson men to their feet, and started a demonstration for the New Jersey governor. The result was: Wilson, 629; Clark, 306; Underwood, 99; Harmon, 29; Foss, 27. Pennsylvania voted unanimously with Wilson on this vote, casting 76 for Wilson. Wisconsin also joined in the stampede, going twenty-eight strong for Wilson.

The situation at the end of this ballot led to the belief that Wilson would be the party's selection on the next roll call which was ordered at 1:45 p. m. Gov. Marshall was announced on the floor of the convention as a candidate for the vice presidency, if Wilson was nominated.

The totals of the forty-fifth ballot were: Wilson, 633; Clark, 306; Underwood, 97; Harmon, 25; Foss, 27.

The forty-sixth ballot was delayed by Senator Bankhead's speech, in which he said that it was time to recognize that Underwood could not be nominated and that he would not accept the vice presidency. He then withdrew Underwood's name from the convention. As the forty-sixth ballot was commenced, Alabama lead off with 24 votes for Woodrow Wilson. Kentucky voted 26 for Wilson, while state after state fell in line for Wilson, thus insuring his nomination. Missouri remained loyal to Clark. Senator Stone, of Missouri, in a speech released all Clark delegates from their pledges. Gov. Foss also withdrew from the race, thus throwing his delegates to Wilson. Fitzgerald, of New York, moved that the roll call be dispensed with and the nomination be by acclamation. The convention rose en-masse. It was now certain that Wilson would be nominated as soon as order was restored. New York voted solidly for Wilson. The roll call was interrupted by great confusion. The result was a victory for the New Jerseyite, the vote being: Wilson, 690; Clark, 84; Harmon, 12; absent, 2.

Wilson's nomination was made unanimous at 3:33 p. m., on a motion of Senator Stone, of Missouri. A tremendous demonstration followed the announcement of the nomination of Woodrow Wilson, by acclamation.

After this the convention adjourned until 9 p. m.

BALTIMORE, July 3.—In a final session of nearly three and a half hours the National Democratic convention this morning at 1:05 o'clock completed its labors by the selection of Gov. Marshall, of Indiana, as its nominee for vice president, choosing him by acclamation after two futile ballots.

The second was marked by much changing of votes, many of them in favor of Marshall, but no choice resulted.

The two-thirds majority was required as in a presidential nomination.

As the name of Gov. Buke, of North Dakota, was withdrawn Gov. Marshall was nominated with a whoop and by acclamation and the convention adjourned sine die while many of the enduring delegates were well on their way to the door.

During the session the platform, as presented by the committee was endorsed.

She professed faith in Christ at prayer meeting in October 1901 and joined Sinking Spring church at the age of 13 years, and lived a true faithful member until death.

A few days before her death she called her loved ones to her bedside but her arms around papa's neck, and said, I am well and told Elmer to meet her in heaven, and clapped her hands and in a strong voice sang "Home Sweet Home." She loved mother, brothers, sister, husband and children so dearly, but said she was ready to meet her Savior, but hated to leave Elmer and the children, and loved ones that loved her so dearly.

It has been the writer's pleasure to be in her home and company for the last eight years, and Minnie had one of the kindest and sweetest dispositions that I ever knew. Minnie was a lovely character, which like a star rose in lustrous beauty and shed its cloudless rays upon the of companions within the home and within the wider world with out. She was gentle, spirited, not caring for the harsh and turbulent elements of life, kind and cheerful yet modest as the violet which almost unseen sheds its fragrance to every passerby. Minnie loved her body and everything that was good and pure. A few days before her death she said to her loved ones that she was ready to meet her Savior, but hated to leave Elmer and the children, and loved ones that loved her so dearly.

can heal the broken hearts in time of sadness and darkness and bless these dear neighbors and friends, for their kindness in this sad hour, and death is sad at best, it is said at the end of life's long day when the spirit is laid to rest in the purple clouds, it is doubly sad in life's morning all aglow with the light of youthful joy, and mournful as the measure of mortality as it comes whispering to us through slumbering chests of our dear, it is but natural that our hearts are sad and eyes are dimmed with tears for this dear one who has sailed away from us in the shadowing ship called death. We mourn not as those having no hope, through the films of mystery comes the voice of love from the divine: "Whosoever loveth and believeth in Me shall never die." Minnie has gone from our presence but she is not dead she has everlasting life and basks in the sunshine of God's eternal love where there is no pain on her aching brow, and sorrow to sicken the heart. Then lift up your head to the one who said: "Let not your heart be troubled, for I am not afraid." We loved Minnie, and she loved her friends and love knows no sorrow, ties nor slumber, and fullness of those she loved.

God has taken from that home a voice so sweet and still And left a vacant place That never can be filled.

It was hard to give him up Our hearts are very sore, But we hope to meet with Otis On the bright celestial shore.

Remember dear father and mother Your time too we grieve, To leave the sun and moon with you, Yes, when you last saw me, To friends and loved ones, Death's shadow came, So, let us be prepared to meet him When comes the fatal call.

Obituary.

The reaper death has again visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Shelton and claimed as its victim the most fragrant flower of the garden not to wither and die but to be transplanted in the paradise of God.

On June 3, 1912 God called from this world of suffering little Otis Shelton. Otis was born November 10, 1892 making him 19 years 6 months and 24 days old at the time of his death but we say little Otis because he has been an invalid all his life and was just like a little child.

Otis was a good boy and the joy and light of the home and community.

His true dear kind mother will miss him more than any, because he was always near her. He was never able to work much having fallen from a horse when only two years old, left him a cripple all his life.

It is sad indeed to think that his young sweet life is ended and that his bright face must forever be hid from our view. But it was our precious Lord's will, he has finished his work on earth and has simply fallen asleep in the arms of Jesus. It is hard indeed to give him up, yet like David we can say we cannot bring him back to us, but by the grace of God we can go to him where the dear parents will never have to stand around the dying bed of loved ones and see them struggle and gasp for breath and they are so powerless to give any relief.

He is gone and all we can do is to submit to the will of God and be ready when the messenger of death shall come to call us from earth to heaven.

Otis leaves a father, mother, three sisters, four brothers, a grandma and other relatives and friends to mourn his death.

I cannot find words to express to the heart broken family of the dear boy the deep sympathy which I feel for them in their sad hour.

He was laid to rest on the 4th day of June in the Asberry cemetery, surrounded by weeping loved ones and sorrowing friends to await the resurrection morn. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Jones.
